

The Patent, Design and Trademark Act, 2022 (Nepal)

Presented by: Amit singh , Anushree Thapa

Section: Ignite

Introduction

- This Act was made to protect creative work in Nepal
- It covers inventions, product designs, and brand names
- It helps people get legal ownership of their ideas
- It also stops others from copying their work

Key Features of the Act

- Covers patents, designs, and trademarks
- Provides exclusive rights to creators and inventors
- Registration required for legal protection
- Provides legal remedies against infringement
- Encourages fair competition and innovation

Sections of The Patent, Design and Trademark Act, 2022

- Preliminary Section
Defines important terms and explains the Act
- Patent Section
Deals with registration and protection of inventions
- Design Section
Protects the appearance and design of products
- Trademark Section
Protects brand names, logos, and symbols
- Penalty & Miscellaneous Section
Punishes copying and misuse of rights

Preamble

Statement of Purpose:

“Whereas it is necessary to update the legal arrangements in respect to patents, designs, and trademarks for the convenience and economic benefit of the general public.”

Significance:

- Provides a strong legal framework
- Encourages innovation and creativity
- Supports economic development in Nepal

Patent and Design

Patent

- A patent protects a new and useful invention
- It grants exclusive rights to the inventor
- No one else can make, use, or sell the invention without permission

Design

- A design protects the external appearance of a product
- It includes shape, pattern, or decoration

Trademark

- A trademark is a mark used to identify goods or services
- It may include names, logos, symbols, or signs
- Registration gives the owner exclusive rights over the mark
- It helps prevent confusion and unfair competition

Objectives and Importance of the Act

- To protect intellectual property rights in Nepal
- To encourage innovation and industrial development
- To ensure fair competition in the market
- To provide legal remedies against violation

Conclusion

- The Act provides legal protection to patents, designs, and trademarks
- Registration is essential to enforce legal rights
- The law balances private rights and public interest
- It plays an important role in Nepal's legal system